Federal Labor Laws and Workplace Rights Webinar for Advocates

One of WHD's main objectives is educating worker advocates and others who regularly interact with at-risk workers, enabling them to more effectively guide workers who need WHD assistance. Exploited workers, for a variety of reasons, may not contact DOL or are hesitant to do so, making it difficult to get them the information and help they need.

Join this webinar to help close this gap between workers who need help and the federal agency that is charged with ensuring their workplace rights.

WHD enforces labor laws in the U.S. regardless of a worker's immigration status.

Topics Covered

- Minimum Wage
- Overtime
- Medical Leave
- Common Labor Rights Violations: misclassification of workers as independent contractors, unpaid work, missed/late payroll, & more
- Complaint Intake Process & Referral Process
